

Meet our Cello Instructor

Ana Caban

Ana Caban is a native of Puerto Rico where she became musically involved at age 10. During a school presentation for instrumental selection, she was impressed and drawn to the mystical, profound sounds of the cello.

In 1993, ten years after moving to the states, Ana was awarded the Kathleen Sheridan Award and was one of five young musicians selected from the state of Florida to perform for the world's leading cellist Yo-Yo-Ma. Ana has traveled abroad to further her studies in cello.

Miss Caban has been teaching as well as performing wherever an advanced cellist is needed. She knows how to turn her students' weaknesses into strengths. She has been rated the full five stars for top performer in Gig Salad and is an active member of local symphony orchestras in Central Florida.

Ana currently holds a bachelor's in music from Florida State University with seven years of training in classical cello Performance.
